2011 Windy Day

Tasting Notes:

The color of the wine is a light honey yellow. It has aromas of mandarin orange zest, crème brûlée, honey, fresh honey suckle and white lilac flowers. On the palate, the wine has tropical fruit flavors such as sweet mango with a hit of candied ginger and orange cream. Delicious with fresh fruit, stilton cheese and shellfish.

Vintage: 2011 was a long growing season which started out with warm temperatures early in the spring, followed by cooler weather that persisted for most of the summer. After veraison, a brief period of warm summer weather helped establish color and ripeness. Despite a cooler, wetter early September, warmer weather returned by late September to ripen the fruit nicely. The cooler year led to crisp acidity with balanced fruit flavors.
